PRESS RELEASE

Celebrating Excellence: Our 2025 Millennium Fellows

Kairuki University is proud to announce that 14 of our undergraduate students have been selected to join the Millennium Fellowship Class of 2025, a prestigious global leadership programme presented by the United Nations Academic Impact (UNAI) and Millennium Campus Network (MCN).

The Millennium Fellowship empowers student leaders to advance the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) through impactful community based projects. This year's application process was extraordinarily competitive, with over 60,000 applicants from 7,500+ campuses worldwide. Only 290+ campuses (4%) were selected to host the 4,000+ Fellows chosen for the 2025 cohort.

"We are thrilled to see our students recognized on the global stage for their commitment to social impact and sustainable development," said Prof. Yohana Mashalla, Vice Chancellor of Kairuki University. "Their selection is a testament to the leadership, creativity, and civic responsibility we strive to cultivate."

About the Millennium Fellowship

The Millennium Fellowship is a semester long leadership development initiative that provides training, mentorship, and global networking opportunities. Fellows work on projects that address critical challenges in their communities, aligned with the SDGs from climate action and gender equality to education and public health
